Introduction

How to Use the CMS Brand

Careful and consistent application of the CMS logos is one of the keys to the success of the CMS Athletic Identity Program. Whenever uniforms, apparel, brochures, newsletters, web sites, banners, or other communication pieces are created, they represent the entire Athletic Department. Therefore, it is important to present a consistent look, feel, and level of quality in all athletic-related communications.

This identity and these standards should now replace all other Stag, Athena, and CMS logos not included in this manual that would compete with CMS Athletics' identity and weaken its internal and external presence. Adhering consistently to these standards will help CMS achieve greater recognition in the athletic world, distinguish its teams by visually aligning them with the official recognizable brand, and make a stronger impression on prospective student-athletes and their parents.

How to Use the Graphic Standards

While no guide can cover all possible issues or situations, this document provides guidelines for any communication vehicle that impacts the CMS reputation — be it print, electronic, or other visual media. Inside, are helpful guidelines for how to utilize the new logos. The successful implementation of this branding initiative will amplify the spirit of the CMS athletic community with fans, alumni, parents, current students, and others.

Information about accessing the logos and other resources are located at the end of this manual.

Identity System Logos

The CMS Logotype

The CMS logotype is the new visual identity for the CMS athletic department.

Within the configurations, the size and position of the elements are fixed (as shown at right) and must not be reconfigured or altered in any way.

The CMS is available in a Pantone (PMS) solid 2-color version.

Approved Modifications

When the logo is used at a very small size or the specific listing of the college names is not necessary or redundant, it can be appropriate to use the logo without the elements below "ATHLETICS". The line rule, square bullet marks, and the text must be removed together for this to be acceptable to the brand standards.

Staging the Logos

Minimum Staging for the Logos

On all visual communications—online or print or product applications—it is vital that the logo be distinctly positioned so that it always stands apart from other text or visual elements. To ensure this visual separation, the logo must be surrounded by an area free of any graphic intrusions that may diminish its visual presence and impact.

Always try to surround the logo with a minimum of free space X, where X is the height of the small cap letter of the logotype. This area should be free of any competing graphic intrusion, typography, photographic, or illustrated image. The edge of a printed or web page should ideally use a minimum of twice this amount of space whenever possible.

Small-Scale Use

It is recommended that the three variations of the CMS Mascot Logo artwork (duel, Stag, and Athena) not be used smaller than 1.5" in height for print applications.

Where the reproduction size will impact legibility in applications such as embroidery, pins, or other small scale items, a simplified version of these logos has been developed (see page 13). Please refer to the CMS Athletics website (cmsathletics.org) to download these specific logo variations.

CMS Colored Background Logo Variations

File names are formatted as follows: 01_CMS-Color; 02_CMS-Color; etc.

Simplified Logos on Colored Backgrounds

There are several acceptable color variations (1-color, 2-color, and 3-color) of the main logos for use on colored backgrounds. Since legibility and details of the logo can be lost when produced on a background other than white, the elements in these symbols have been simplified. These should be used primarily for apparel and not for print applications. These logos are also approved for embroidery. They should be used exactly as they are shown on these specific background colors.

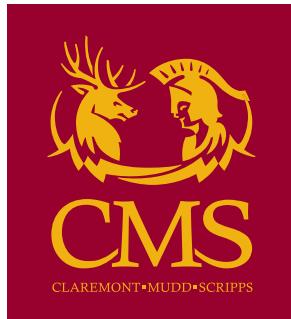

Please contact the CMS Sports Information Director or Equipment Manager with any questions regarding using a logo on colored or textured backgrounds.

Approved Modifications

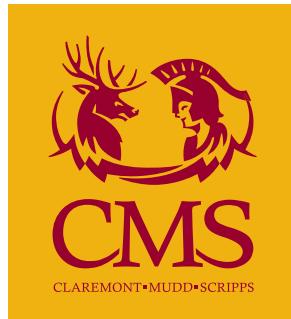

When the logo is used at a very small size or the specific listing of the college names is not necessary or redundant, it can be appropriate to use the logo without the colleges listed below "CMS". Custom Use of the Brand

Certain variations to the existing system may be available on a per project basis when working with the CMS Sports Information Director and Equipment Manager. Provided on the right are a few samples of those custom applications.

Other special use examples include adjustments to the logos for promotional days like Military Appreciation Day and Breast Cancer Awareness. The only logo that may be changed for promotional days is the CMS Stacked Logo (below).

Before proceeding with the reproduction of any of these or other brand variation designs, please contact the CMS Sports Information Director and CMS Equipment Manager.

Use of Historical Logos

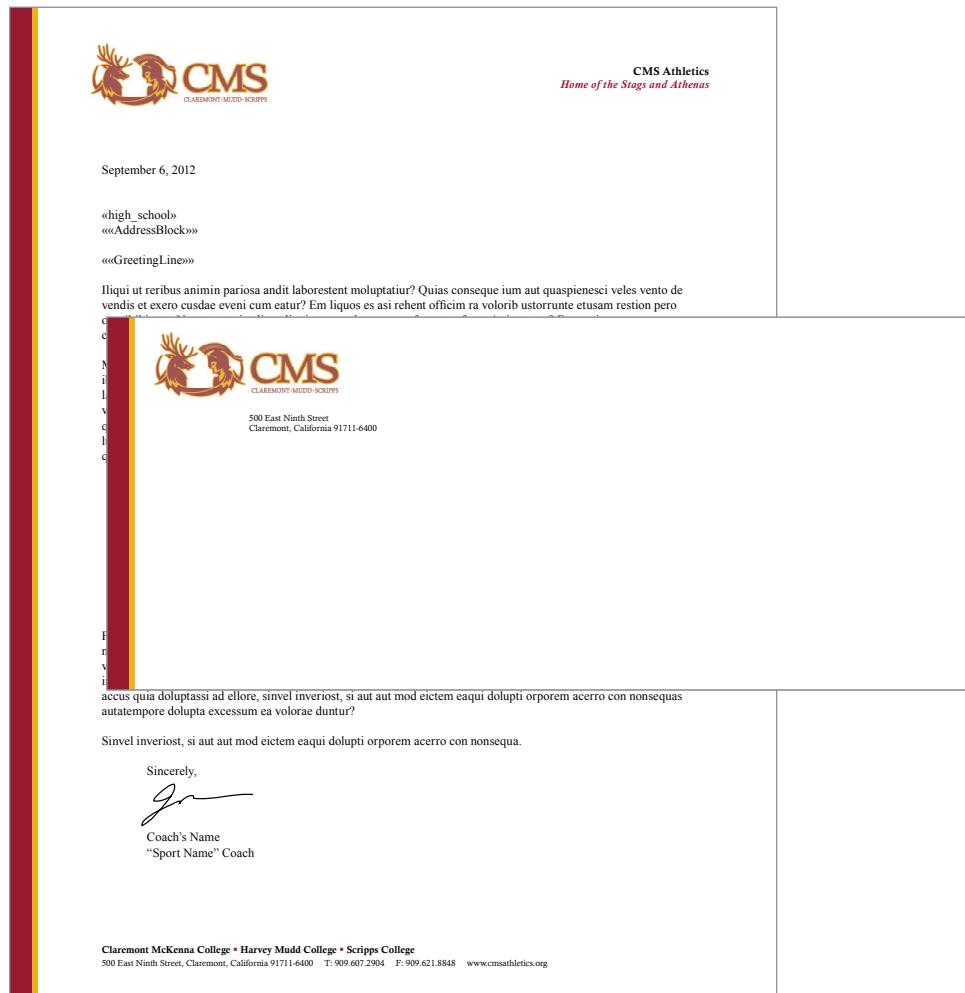

Before proceeding with the reproduction of any of these historical logos, please contact the CMS Sports Information Director and CMS Equipment Manager.

Stationery

Stationery carries the most official and personal of CMS Athletics' communications. Letters will likely represent individuals speaking on behalf of CMS. For these reasons, it is critical that the visual and written content maintain the highest level of quality in preparation and production. With that in mind, a stationery system has been designed that incorporates the updated identity. Please avoid inclusion of unauthorized graphic elements or copy including slogans, unofficial symbols, photographs, etc. that will deter from the message and the impact of the CMS brand.
